2009 Lilly Endowment Community Scholars

The Lilly Endowment Scholarship Program provides exceptional Huntington County students full tuition and required fees for four years to any accredited Indiana public or private college or university.

The Huntington County Community Foundation and Lilly Endowment Community Scholarship Program work together to help raise the level of educational attainment in Indiana, and have been doing so for many years.

The 2009 Huntington County Lilly Endowment Community Scholars are:

Daniel Leedy
Butler University

Karissa Miller
Butler University

The Huntington County Community Foundation acts as a liaison between our donors, whose Scholarship Funds center on continuing education, and our young people wishing to attend, or are attending a college or university. It is through the generosity of our scholarship donors that these students can strive to meet their educational dreams. Look inside to see this year’s scholarship winners who received tuition assistance.
